

Online Learning Readiness Checklist

To help you decide if you are ready for online coursework, honestly respond to the following statements by making a checkmark in the box. Make sure to be honest with yourself!

- I am self motivated and self-disciplined
- I am a good “time manager”
- I am comfortable with e-mail and word processing
- I can read analytically and critically
- If I set my sights on an end result, I usually achieve it
- I am confident in my academic skills
- I do not give up easily, even when confronted with obstacles
- I believe I am responsible for my own education
- I have conflicts with work, athletics, or child care and school activities
- I have convenient and frequent access to a computer with an Internet connection
- I am willing to try something new
- I am willing to express my thoughts and opinions in writing
- I am willing to work in a loosely structured environment

After completing the questionnaire, count the number of checkmarks you made.

~If you checked off fewer than 10 statements, rethink your reasons for wanting to enroll in an online course. You may not feel comfortable with this style of instruction and it may not be right for you at this time.

~If you check off at least 10 statements, online learning may be right for you!!!
